From the CEO

When YGAB was a dream written in a notebook, I felt naive to think I could run a non-profit for youth, and maybe I was. Being a young mother, I had no idea what kids needed to succeed. But, I was sure of what I needed as a kid. I was sure that every young person should have resources that empower them to overcome their toughest challenges.

Here we are, 3 years since inception, and we've served hundreds of tweens, teens, and parents with social-emotional learning programs and financial wellness courses that reach homes across the country. We've raised funds to close the opportunity gap for underserved youth through corporate partners and allies who are deeply committed to investing in diverse communities. We've reached thousands with our campaigns- changing perceptions and challenging assumptions by showing the greatness in our community.

This movement that came alive at a vision board party in a dear friend's Dallas home, is well on its way to completely and totally transforming the way our kids see themselves and transforming the way the world views their potential. We're able to do all of this because we believe deeply that this work is as much about emotional and financial wellness as it is about equity and opportunity.

Because we envision a world where all young people have the confidence to overcome any challenge and the confidence to start businesses, land their dream jobs, and thrive as leaders. A world where young people dare to dream and feel empowered to pursue those dreams, no matter their circumstances. Together, we'll change the world. One young person at a time.

Our Vision For 2022

“ I love myself. I am worthy of all good things. And I believe the girl standing next to me is, too. I AM WOMAN. HEAR ME ROAR!

- YGAB, Hear Her Roar Program Alumni

Our Hear Her Roar program is rapidly changing how girls see themselves so they dare to dream BIG, while maintaining only the healthiest of relationships with others and their finances. With more and more joining us every year, we have no doubt about the confidence we will continue to build in girls around the world.

All of this work is possible because we have the support of generous partners—sponsors, community organizations, and allies—who understand how vital it is to live in a society where women are empowered and where women have a voice. We're thankful for our partners who are committed to supporting girls everywhere.

But what really makes this possible are the girls driving so much of this work forward themselves. When they choose to be brave and share how they overcame bullying. Or when they give a friend a shoulder to cry on. Or when they take a risk by applying for their dream college. They are bravery, redefined. They lean on their sisterhood, their skills, and their spirit to succeed. And they keep us going, every day.
